

Mark Levie

Mark Levie retired from Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe in 2012 after spending 35 years with the firm. He specialized in corporate finance and corporate and securities law, and also served in a number of management positions at the firm over time, including 25 years on its Executive Committee and stints as the head of the SF office, Chair of the Finance Department, and Managing Partner.

Mark received his law degree from Harvard in 1976 and his undergraduate degree from the University of Illinois in 1973.